These missions — two separate, multi-mission operations — were initiated Thursday morning at the F-35B's designated base at Eglin Air Force Base, Florida in response to the Sept. 11, 2011 terrorist attacks. That included the two anti-missile missions in Afghanistan and Libya — and at the request of the U.S. military leaders on the ground, the jets had agreed to take off and turn around within 45 minutes.. A bill in the Michigan Legislature that would allow police to demand passwords from customers without a court order has prompted a legal fight across the state.. Lawmakers in the House and Senate said they would try to reverse the state's controversial law Tuesday, arguing that requiring a password for online transactions is a form of "suspicionless seizure." They also said they didn't know whether legislators in other states were listening to their complaints that the bill was overly restrictive.. The bills would require Internet providers such as Comcast, Time Warner Cable and Internet service providers including AT&T to create two types of customer-provider accounts, one for cash and one for personal records such as addresses, driver's license numbers, Social Security numbers or Social Security numbers. The companies would then have to use those accounts to send customer information such as e-mail and passwords..
